A Message from the Grunins

Linda and I have been residents of Ocean County since 1969. We built our reputation as lawyers who worked hard, related to our clients' needs and always sought to act with the highest integrity. Over the last few years, we have devoted more and more of our attention to our philanthropic endeavors through The Jay and Linda Grunin Foundation.

We see philanthropy as our opportunity to give back to a county that we are proud to call our home. Part of our Foundation's mission is to bring world class art, both performing and visual, to our community. Linda and I are extremely excited to be partnering with OCC in connection with the Jay and Linda Grunin Center for the Arts. We believe that our two organizations will be able to help elevate a great community to even higher plateaus.

The Skivvies

Saturday, April 2, 2016

The Skivvies are Lauren Molina and Nick Cearley, singer/actor/musicians performing stripped down arrangements of eclectic covers and eccentric originals. Not only is the music stripped down (cello, ukulele, glockenspiel, melodica) but The Skivvies literally strip down to their underwear to perform.

Molina (Broadway's Rock of Ages, Sweeney Todd, Mary Zimmerman's Candide) and Cearley (Broadway First National All Shook Up, Pageant, and on the OUT 100 list as one of the 'most compelling actors of 2014') became YouTube sensations with their Skivvies covers of artists like Robyn, Carole King, and Rihanna. The videos led to live shows, and now this "musically thrilling," indie-rock, comedy-pop duo continues to perform to sold-out audiences in New York and beyond.

Home Free | Saturday, February 20, 2016

When country a cappella band Home Free was crowned Season 4 Champions of NBC's "The Sing-Off" in December 2014, the victory was by no means the "beginnings" of a career for the five country stars from Minnesota...rather it was a satisfying culmination of nearly a decade of hard work and commitment to a vocal craft growing in popularity. Founded by brothers Chris and Adam Rupp during their college years in the early 2000s, Home Free has been perfecting its live show for years, performing for crowds in countless state/county fairs, on college campuses, in front of Fortune 500 companies, and in theaters all across the country. In fact, it was the group's experience on the road that carried them to "The Sing-Off" victory, swelling its fan base and bringing its homegrown country style into the national spotlight.

Cameron Carpenter – Organist

Wednesday, March 16, 2016

A virtuoso composer-performer unique among keyboardists, Cameron Carpenter's approach to the organ is smashing the stereotypes of organists and organ music while generating a level of acclaim, exposure, and controversy unprecedented for an organist. His repertoire – from the complete works of J.S. Bach and Cesar Franck, to his hundreds of transcriptions of non-organ works, his original compositions, and his collaborations with jazz and pop artists – is perhaps the largest and most diverse of any organist. He is the first organist ever nominated for a Grammy® Award for a solo album. The Los Angeles Times writes, "Carpenter is one of the rare musicians who changes the game of his instrument... He is a smasher of cultural and classical music taboos. He is technically the most accomplished organist I have ever witnessed... And, most important of all, the most musical."

Salut Salon

Saturday, April 16, 2016

The four "virtuosas" from Salut Salon are convinced that a concert with classical music can be fun, not just for those playing the music, but for those listening too. That's why the four are surprisingly fond of doing things out of the ordinary. The fact that they don't do salon music, for instance – contrary to what their name would lead you to expect – is just one of those things. These four women astound their audiences time and again, not only those who are expecting to hear pure classical music, but also those who are averse to the classical genre. Salut Salon do both...or both a power of good. They love classical music, they love the tango, they love chansons and acrobatic interludes.

Tom Wopat “I’ve Got Your Number”

Sunday, January 10, 2016

All it takes is a phrase or two from Tom Wopat’s warm, engaging baritone voice to trigger the desire to hear more. And the more one listens, the better it gets – from the way he finds the heart of a song’s story to his lyrical phrasing and his gently swinging, jazz- infused rhythms. Wopat’s dynamic live show features songs from his critically-acclaimed new album, I’ve Got Your Number, in which he performs new arrangements of Great American songbook classics, as well as contemporary songs of Paul Simon, Bruce Springsteen, James Taylor, and more. At first glance, that could be viewed as a surprisingly diverse program of material from a performer who may be best known for his starring role in the 1980s hit television show “The Dukes of Hazzard.” But his versatility was there from the beginning, and on full display in a career reaching from his television work of the 1970s and 1980s to his Tony Award nominated Broadway roles in 1999’s Annie Get Your Gun and 2008’s Catered Affair, as well as Chicago, 42nd Street, Sondheim on Sondheim, and most recently the Tony-Award winning play The Trip To Bountiful starring Cicely Tyson.

The Seldoms "Power Goes"

Friday, October 23 & Saturday, October 24, 2015

Lyndon Baines Johnson, a man who voraciously sought and aquired power, used to remark, "Power is where power goes." But how does power go, exactly? Where do the powers of persuasion, action, achievement, and resistance come from and how do they work? When do they succeed and when do they fail? What are the costs of power – and the benefits of it? Power Goes is a multimedia dance theater work that uses the figure of Lyndon B. Johnson to explore these questions. But it is about far more than just LBJ himself. The Seldoms reveal how power is present in intimate exchanges and collective public actions alike, in th past and in the present. They seek out how power flows through- or gets blocked up in- bodies when they lean in, loom over, work together, bear down, relen, resist, or rise up. From LBJ's contentious 1960s context of civil rights protest and the Vietnam War, Great Society programs and struggles over the future of America, to our present moment of struggles over equality and rights, social change and citizenship, war and peace, political stalemate and the yearning to move America forward or perhaps bring it back to something that got lost,

Power Goes uses dance theater to offer perspectives on the performance of power and how power performs.

The play revolves around several central characters; Father Flynn, a beloved and progressive parish priest, and the school's principal, Sister Aloysius, a rigidly conservative nun; among others. During a meeting with a younger nun, it becomes clear that Sister Aloysius is mistrustful of her students, her fellow teachers, and society in general. Sister Aloysius and Father Flynn are put into direct conflict when she learns that Father Flynn has met privately with Donald Muller, the school's first African-American student. Is Father Flynn innocent of any wrongdoing? The audience is left with its own doubt! Directed by Paul Chalakani. Performances held in the Black Box Theatre.
